

One of my other brothers was sent to a special school so he could learn how to warn people that they were going to get sick before they did.