

My sister was sent to another school
to learn how to help people with Autism.
To be their friend and help them get around.